BIDS FOR NEW BATTLESHIPS. Date for Opening Them Postponed

Until December 7. Washington, Oct. II.—The Board of Naval Bureau Chiefs decided to-day by a vote of four to one to postpone the date of opening bids for new battleships, set for November is, until December 7, when the bids for the cruisers also will be opened. Rear Admiral Bradford dissented from the postponement. He is understood to desire the matter disposed of before Congress meets.

The postponement was desired by some of the large shipbuilders in order to give them time to prepare individual plans which have been invited. It also will permit navail officers to consider several plans for changing the batteries heretofore agreed upon.

It Is Our Opinion That those men's and young men's suits and evercoats at $3.83 are just the thing you want. They are $12.50 and $15 value. See page 4.

ALSCHULER SPOKE ON STATE TAXES.

Showed the Fallacy of Republican Argument Concerning the Low Rate.

QUOTED GOVERNOR TANNER.

Proved That Debt Left by Altgeld Was Caused by a Republican Legislature-Enthusiastic Meetings.

Bloomington, BL, Oct. 11.-Mr, Alschuler was drafted into addressing an audience at Chapin last night, which packed the operahouse as never before. A majority of the audience were Republicans, as was evidenced when Mr. Alsohuler referred to the fact that he was in Morgan County, the Republicans on their leader, and then for an hour he fired volley after volley into the ranks of Mark Hanna Republicanism. He drew a sharp distinction between the original leaders and doctrines of the Remen of the present.

Original Republican Converted. One gray-bearded old farmer, who didn't give his name, shook the hand of the Demscratte leader after the meeting.

"I was one of the Republicans who helped form the party," said he. "I was a Lincoln and Yates Republican away back in 1856. But your speech has convinced me that the bemocratic party in this campaign stands for what Lincoln and Yates and Rissell and those other great men believed in I shall vote for Bryan and Alsohuler and the en-line ticket this year, and every true Amer-ican ought to do the same. I am not manacied to the party name."

Mr. Alschaler and Mr. Todd arrived in Clinton about 1:70 this afternoon, and 2:00 Cheering Democrats followed their carriages

There was a walt for an hour while the candidates direct. In the meantime the crowd of over 4.00 patiently stood around the stand, the afternoon sun bronzing their faces and a north wind chilling the marrow in their bones. They were uncomfortably wedged in a compact semicircle, and the committee, composed of Frank Palmer, Mr. flughes and Henry Suttle, with difficulty secured a footing on the stand for the erators.

When they appeared a shout of greeting was given that shook the seaves from the trees. Secretary Adalr of the County Com-mittee first introduced Mr. Todd, who remittee first introduced Mr. Todd, who re-ferred to Mr. Aischuler's legislative tecord and compared it with the action of Repub-lican leaders, which was loudly applauded. For himself Mr. Todd said no political ring, no trust or corporation had anything to do with his normantion, and when he took his place as Attories General the trusts and corporations would obtain no favors at his hands not expressly conferred upon them by law.

Mr. Alschuler's reception was exceedingly Mr. Alschuler's reception was exceedingly flattering. He explained his position on State matters in about the same terms as at Beardstown yesteriny, declaring a consideration of the Grand Jury indictments now pending against officers of the present administration in Feoria, Cook and Logan counties ought to convince the State administration that it had a few rascals in its own ranks, and common decency should prevent assents on a former Democratic administration. Fig told why Altgeld left his State in debt, and clearly proved by Governor Tanner's own words that the Republican Legislature of '25 was solely responsible.

Concerning State taxes he said:

'One of their boasts is that the tax levy for the last two years is very low. The hypocrisy of that statement is only equaled by their nerve in giving it currency. The tax rate is hower because the new revenue law has increased the total valuation of property in the State for assessment purposes. If the total valuation is low the tax rate is high, and the higher the valuation law has increased the total valuation of property in the State for assessment purposes. If the total valuation is low the tax rate is high, and the higher the valuation the lower the rate.

"Look at your tax receipts when you get home. That's the true test. You will find you have paid as much State taxes during the tour years of Governor Aligeld's administration.

"The aspregate amount of State expenses is now many millions more than during any year under Governor Aligeld. It len't percents that count; it's the dollars and cents you pay. This only proves the truth of the old adage that figures don't lie, but the fellows who use them can lie like Satan.

"The candidates on the Democratic theket are not piedged to follow in the footsteps of any administration. They stand on a platform of profile duty to all the people of litinois, and they are making their canvass with this understanding. More we cannot promise. Less we cannot perform and be true to the great trust the people will repose in us."

National issues were then discussed for over an hour. There was a parade this forence ever a mile in length; bands from Cinton, Mount Pulaski, Dewitt, Lane and Farmer City and the Waynesville Drum Corps furnished music. James H. Conkiln was marshal, with a dozen alds. Mottoes and banners were numerous and included some good hits.

A youth in rags was labeled "Out of a job," and carried a banner inscribed:

"The Jaborer's propertiy is fourteen pounds of sugar for a day's work."

"Thou shalt not kill except to extend trade."

"The Declaration of Independence is the greatest world-power ever known."

"Down with trusts. They rob the dinner pall."

Mr. Alschuler and Mr. Todd arrived in Bloomington about o'elock.

DANISH PEOPLE OBJECTED. Did Not Want Their Islands Sold

Washington, Oct. 11.—It was learned at the State Department to-day that no overtures had been made recently by the United States Government to Denmark for the purchase of the Danish West Indies. The hast negotiations, which occurred in the late paring, were suspended owing to the discovery by the Bunish officials of a feeling of hostility on the part of the Danish people against the proposed sale.

Whatever has been in Denmark, and it is inferred from the tone of the reess dispatches that time has been in Denmark, and it is inferred from the tone of the reess dispatches that the popular opposition to the transfer is diminishing.

If this be so, then the United States Government would be ready again to discuss the subject at the point where the negotiations were interrupted.

QUITE ATTRACTIVE IS THIS LITTLE FROCK

Made of Water-Blue Crep

Made of Water-Blue Crepeline.

Girl's Dress, No. $105-Water-blue crepeline was chosen for this attractive little frock, with yoke and plastron of white lace over liberty satin.

It is made with a fitted lining body which closes in the center back. The front plastron forms a square yoke, and extends to the belt. The fronts are arranged in three forward turning tucks, on each side, and applied in unique outline-opening in the center to display the narrow plastron. The tucks are stitched down for a short distance; the fullness at the walst being distributed in gathers.

The backs are faced with lace to a yoke depth, the cloth being tucked and applied to correspond with the front, and drawn down close to the belt. The waist is smoothly adjusted under the arms.

The neck is completed with a straight collar. The uppers of the close-fitting two-piece sleeves are tucked to simulate epailettes. They are finished with bands of lace around the lower edges.

The little skirt is shaped with five gores, fitting smooth around the waist and over the hips, the fullness being arranged in two inverted plaits at each side of the center closing.

Cashmere, covert, drap d'ete, cheviot or two inverted plaits at each side of the center closing.

Cashmere, covert, drap d'ete, cheviot or popiin are appropriate for this mode, with velvet, fancy silk or stamped-out cloth for trimming. The yoke and plastron may be made of the same fabric and decorated with fancy braid if preferred.

To make the dress for a girl 3 years old will require two and one-quarter yards of forty-four-inch material, with five-eighths yard of twenty-inch material, with five-eighths yard of twenty-inch material for plastron, back yoke and collar. The pattern, No. Sio, is cut in sizes for girls 6, 8, 10 and 13 years.
